We leverage both off-the-shelf open-source tools and our own reusable accelerators, modules and agents we recombine to fit your environment, so we move faster than a from-scratch build. We start by understanding the problem that needs solving, then bring a clear plan for how AI can help. The problem statement is always the starting point, and humans stay in the loop, with approval gates and a full audit trail behind every AI action.

WHAT WE PROVIDE

STATE OF THE ART MODELS

We implement current, production-grade models across a range of AI workloads, with use-case-specific customization and optimization.

LANGUAGE MODELS

Large language models grounded in your own documentation through RAG, with case-specific fine-tuning where it earns its keep, every answer traceable to its source.

HEURISTIC / RULES-BASED MODELS

Programmatic automation for rules-based workloads, with reversible actions and human approval on the steps that carry risk.

STATISTICAL / MATHEMATICAL MODELING

Rigorous modeling for real-world forecasting and planning, demand sensing, inventory, and production, wired into the systems where decisions actually get made.
